PARTNERSHIP OUTLINE

Our Moving Image Arts Partnership Programme offers schools an exciting opportunity to avail of one year's bespoke training and support customised to meet the needs of their MIA department. Nerve centre is recognised as an established training centre for Moving Image Arts and continues to offer a range of training opportunities to teachers and pupils throughout the year in our MIA Teacher Week and our MIA Summer Schools.

Our MIA Support Partnership Programme will be of particular interest to schools who have recently started or who are thinking about offering CCEA’s Moving Image Arts GCSE, GCE or another film-related media subject. It may also be of interest to schools who have been delivering the subject but who feel the need to develop the skills of their staff and pupils. The programme will provide four full days of tailored training and support as well as technical support and assistance throughout the year. Schools will also have priority access to all other Nerve centre teacher development courses.

We work strategically with senior management, ICT coordinators and the head of Moving Image Arts as well as other key members of staff in order to ensure that support offered from Nerve centre has the maximum impact in the school. We ask schools to put forward clear ideas of how we can best support the department at the application stage.

The partnership programme is at the core of what we do in the CLC and represents the largest investment of our time, capital and resources. Successful partnership schools will be expected to submit examples of updates to their ICT strategies, schemes of work, lesson plans and other positive outcomes. Where appropriate, these may be shared with the wider education community as examples of good practice.

I learned and honed new skills which will facilitate new tools in the learning process.

(Teacher, Partnership School)

THE TOTAL COST TO PARTNER SCHOOLS IS MET BY US (UP TO £4000 PER SCHOOL), WITH SCHOOLS PROVIDING ONLY TEACHER COVER COSTS AS NECESSARY.

We welcome applications from any post-primary schools within the WELB and NEELB areas. We are looking for vibrant, forward-thinking schools with supportive senior management, enthusiastic and motivated teachers, and ICT equipment/plans suitable to achieve aims and goals set out.
